New to PSA licensing

If you are new to Intruder Alarm or CCTV Installation, you will need to obtain a Temporary License from the Private Security Authority (PSA). EQA will issue a letter confirming you have registered with us in order to obtain a temporary license. Certification takes place after you have installed the required number of Alarms and/or CCTV systems.

If you are new to Access Control Installation (without Alarm and CCTV), you will need to become certified to SR 40:2005 before the PSA will issue a license.
